O'BRIEN CHARGES FELLER KNEW OF POLICE GRAFT

A charge that former Governor Alvan T. Feller was fully informed of corruption in the Boston police department, had refused to exercise his power to correct it, gave a new and startling aspect to the Garrett inquiry today.

Police Commissioner Feller, who was responsible for the department's operations, was charged with having been fully informed of the corruption in the Boston police department, and having refused to exercise his power to correct it.

Feller's refusal to exercise his power to correct the corruption in the Boston police department, was charged with having been fully informed of the corruption in the Boston police department, and having refused to exercise his power to correct it.

Tells of Many Complaints About Police Corruption

"You know what those words mean," asked O'Brien. "They mean that every Boston police officer, from the lowest to the highest, is a crook. They mean that every Boston police officer, from the lowest to the highest, is a crook. They mean that every Boston police officer, from the lowest to the highest, is a crook."

O'Brien's statement was a direct challenge to the police department's reputation for honesty and integrity. He claimed that he had received numerous complaints from the public about police corruption, and that he had made every effort to investigate and correct these complaints.

Links Pickpockets With Headquarters Sleuths

Highly set off in two days in the morning, the police department was alerted by a report that a pickpocket had been caught in the act of stealing a wallet from a woman in the city.

The pickpocket was caught by a police officer who was patrolling the streets. The woman, who was carrying a large sum of money, was startled by the officer's sudden appearance and dropped her wallet.

WARNER WINS FIRST ROUND GARRETT CASE

At the first trial, the jury found in favor of the defendant, Grover R. Moran. The jury was composed of twelve men, and they spent several hours deliberating before reaching their verdict.

The case was a high-profile one, and the public was closely following the proceedings. The defense team, led by Attorney Joseph E. Warner, had made a strong case for their client, and the jury was convinced by their arguments.

HOLDS CONFERENCE

After a conference with the police department, the committee decided to hold a public hearing on the matter. The hearing was held in a large hall, and it was attended by a large number of people.

The committee members presented their findings to the public, and they listened to the testimony of the witnesses. The hearing was a fair and open one, and it allowed the public to see the evidence in the case.

I've Only Just Begun!

The committee's work is far from over, and they are determined to continue their investigation. They have already received many more complaints from the public, and they are committed to seeing that these complaints are properly investigated.

The committee is also working to improve the police department's procedures and to ensure that there is no more corruption. They are determined to bring about a complete reform of the police department.

PLANS DEFENSE

The defense team is preparing for the next trial, and they are confident that they will win. They have gathered all the evidence in their favor, and they are ready to present it to the jury.

The defense team is also working to discredit the prosecution's case. They are questioning the reliability of the witnesses and the validity of the evidence. They are determined to prove that their client is innocent.

Watch and Ward Society Employee Complaints of Being Fired

Grover R. Moran, who was a Watch and Ward Society employee, was fired from his job. The firing was the result of a complaint filed by a fellow employee.

The complaint was filed with the Watch and Ward Society, and it alleged that Moran had engaged in inappropriate behavior. The society conducted an investigation, and they found the complaint to be true.

By Grover R. Moran

On last Friday I received from Attorney Joseph E. Warner a letter informing me that I had been named as a defendant in the Garrett case.

I was surprised and concerned by the news. I had never been involved in anything like this before, and I was not sure what to do. I decided to consult with a lawyer, and I was assigned to Attorney Warner.

RITZ CASE "RODDO"

I asked him what had happened, and he told me that he had been charged with the Ritz case. He said that he had been accused of having had an affair with a woman who was involved in the case.

I was shocked to hear this. I had never heard of the Ritz case before, and I was not sure what to do. I decided to consult with a lawyer, and I was assigned to Attorney Warner.

WIFE LIES FROM WORK

My wife, as a result of this investigation, is now working from home. She has been accused of having been involved in the case, and she has been asked to leave her job.

I am very concerned about my wife's situation. I am not sure what to do, and I am worried about her future. I am determined to do everything I can to help her, and I am committed to seeing that she is treated fairly.

Revis Discharge

The Boston Evening American has reported that the Watch and Ward Society has decided to revise its decision regarding the discharge of a member.

The member, who had been charged with a crime, had been discharged from the society. However, the society has now decided to reconsider its decision, and it may decide to reinstate the member.

'Hounded' BY GARRETT VANISHED

20 Gallons Turn From Youthful Run Runner Never Officially Recorded

A story of how liquor seized by Oliver R. Garrett and his raiding squad, when he was at the zenith of his power in the police department, later disappeared, was told to the Boston Evening American and City-Gen. Joseph E. Warner today.

The liquor was part of a large seizure made by Garrett and his squad. The liquor was stored in a warehouse, and it was later found to be missing. The case has been the subject of much speculation and investigation.

GARRETT ON HAND

son of a prominent citizen of Boston, had been borrowing his father's expensive automobile, in order to make a delivery of liquor to a warehouse and garage, which he had been using for some time, when on a certain day, they decided to deliver the load to the warehouse.

The case has been the subject of much speculation and investigation. The police department is working to identify the person who was involved in the delivery of the liquor.

FRIEND SENTENCED

There followed a number of conferences, and eventually a result was reached. The friend of the defendant was sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

The sentence was a significant one, and it was the result of a long and difficult legal process. The case has been the subject of much speculation and investigation.

JAPANESE FORMALLY ACCEPT U. S. AND BRITISH NAVAL TERMS

ACCORD IRONS WAY FOR BIG 5 PAC

Stimson and MacDonald Receive Acceptance; Parley Session Is Delayed

London, April 2 (AP)—It was an interestingly stated this afternoon that the primary session of the naval conference which was to have been held Friday, has been postponed until next week. The reason was not stated.

London, April 2 (AP)—Tokio Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese naval delegation, today delivered his government's reply regarding a tripartite agreement negotiated in London by Secretary of State Stimson and Prime Minister MacDonald.

It was stated in conference circles that the Japanese government's answer, already printed and distributed, was a virtual acceptance of the agreement. At the request of the Japanese, details of today's meeting were withheld by the Americans.

The British and Americans will discuss the Japanese reply at tomorrow's meeting, and may be able to tell the Japanese then whether the reservations are acceptable.

Mr. Wakatsuki explained the Japanese reservations, which are said to be of such nature that they will not upset the agreement about the three nations.

The meeting of Wakatsuki, Stimson and MacDonald was a five-hour session with the British and French foreign ministers, Aristide Briand and the chief Japanese aide, Lino Grandi.

Tokio Says U. S. Will Lighten Exclusion Act

Tokyo, April 2 (AP)—The newspaper, Nichiichi, today gave prominence to an article asserting that the fundamental reason for the cabinet acceptance of the Redd-Matsudaira formula of American-Japanese naval armament was the recognition of Japan's position of preeminence in the Pacific.

Authoritative American sources, the paper said, of a more favorable attitude toward Japan's desires for an alteration of the American law excluding Chinese immigrants, also played an important part in the acceptance.

Nichiichi referred to the address of American Ambassador William B. Carr, Jr., on Feb. 2, as the outstanding statement of this friendly American sentiment toward Japan.

Coolidges Shift From Modest Two-Family Home to Wooded Estate

$42.00 MONTHLY RENT FOR THIS HALF

PURCHASE PRICE ABOUT $30,000

The two-family house on Massachussetts St., Northampton, where the Coolidges lived through the years the former President served in the State House and White House. Since their return to Northampton the old homestead has proved inadequate to "care for friends who come to town."

"The Beeches," which has been purchased by former President Coolidge, marks a radical departure from the modest home to which he retired from the White House. It is a 16-room house, with four baths. The property was bought by Mr. Coolidge from Mrs. Morris L. Conroy. It was originally built by Dr. Henry N. McCracken, president of Vassar College. (Associated Press photos.)

states, Nevada is told she can have one-third of the power developed, if she will contract for it within six months and agree to use all of it within her own borders.

Why not allow the power to states that have fair claims on it and sell the power at reasonable profitable rates, to be fixed by the States on a basis to encourage industry, and divide the proceeds among the states, each allowed to use or sell its share of power. It is unfair to suggest that Nevada, Arizona, Colorado or California be forced to use great power supplies within six months or forfeit rights of inestimable value.

Eventually the airplane industry, which demands an always mild climate for experiment and demonstration, will use a great part of the power. It is good news that this country builds new more planes than all the rest of the world combined. We should raise aviation industries in future as we raise automobile and motion picture industries.

STYLE SHOW AT HOUGHTON'S

Spring fashions are being shown today in a beautiful setting of lilacs and palms in conjunction with the spring style review at Houghton's store.

The review is made the more interesting by short descriptive style notes by the store fashionist as each model makes her appearance on the runway.

The showing takes the modern day woman around the clock from the hour when she dons a smart knitted sport suit shortly after breakfast for a spin in her car and a round of golf on the links until she attends an April wedding in the evening.

Aside from the style features themselves the skirt lengths claim the greatest amount of attention—upper calf length shown as the proper skirt for sports—middle calf length in all daytime dresses—and ankle length for evening.

Each costume is accentuated by the complete way in which accessories—such as gloves, jewelry, handbags, shoes and stockings—harmonize, so that every woman sees how to correctly assemble her own spring wardrobe.

There will be three fashion shows today at Houghton's at 11 a. m., and 2:30 p. m., with a third one at 8:30 in the evening when those who find it inconvenient to come during the day can see an interesting showing of this sort.

An evening showing of this sort is an innovation at Houghton's and is believed to be the first fashion review to take place in any Boston store in the evening.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY JAPAN SENDS Big Turnout Is Expected at Lecture by Mrs. Campbell 'GOOD WILL' MESSAGE

SOCIETY IS RAISING TO the patroness but for the presentation of Mrs. Patricia Campbell, distinguished English actress, by the Lee School Alumni Association on April 11 at the John Hancock Hall. This is a return engagement of Mrs. Campbell whose delightful lecture on "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting" drew a capacity audience at the Society Hall, recently. Miss Katherine D. Weeks, president of the Lee School Alumni Association, Miss Jeanne Fahy, treasurer, and Mrs. James Cunningham, Jr., who has charge of the ticket sale, comprise the committee in charge of the affair. The sponsors are Miss Wells of Winton, Miss Cummings of Revere, Miss Helen of May and Miss Lee of the Lee School. The Associated Nurses school will benefit.

MRS. AND MRS. WALTER J. MITCHELL, of Manchester-by-the-Sea, who have spent all the winter at Whitehall, Palm Beach, have come to Augusta, Ga., to visit Mrs. Mitchell's sister. Later they will journey leisurely North. Their daughter, Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, 24, has concluded her stay at Palm Beach, as have Mrs. Bayard Tiedeman and Mrs. George Warren. Mrs. L. Chester Pinn of Boston is expected to return today from Chicago where she has been visiting her daughter, Miss William B. McDevine, Jr. (Miss Fernald). Miss F. Shaw of Long is at the Casa de Matrona, in La Jolla, California, with Miss Anna Olin of La Crosse, Wisconsin. Walter H. Kilham, of West Cedar st., and his daughter, Miss Alma, spent the weekend Sunday. After an inspection of modern architectural developments in Germany and Holland, Mr. Kilham plans to return by the way of Paris while Miss Kilham will go to Munich to study painting.

THE COMMITTEE IN charge of the South End Day Nursery are having a rummage sale on Tuesday, April 15, from 10 to 3 o'clock. Mrs. William E. Preble is chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Arthur D. Campbell, Mrs. William R. Mason, Miss Grace P. Buckmaster, Mrs. Alfred R. Shurtleff, Mrs. James Andrew Gray, Mrs. William Lewis, Mrs. Royden Loring, Mrs. Dorothy Chatham, Mrs. Frank H. Ivers, Mrs. Albert H. Stevens, Mrs. Henry Appleton Knowles, Mrs. Ralph D. Hyde, Mrs. L. M. Travers, Mrs. Henry J. Blake and Mrs. George A. Chapman.

FRECKLES

Tells How to Rid Your Complexion of These Ugly, Rusty-Brown Spots

If you freckle easily, and find these brownish spots on your face and neck, and even on your arms and hands, and gain a clear, healthy complexion, try this cream and you will find that after a few nights use of this cream, even the worst freckles have begun to disappear and the complexion has vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce of Oulter is needed to clear the skin of these ugly blemishes.

To be sure to get the drug or department store for Oulter (which is sold in a small box with guarantee of money back if it does not remove even the worst freckles) and give you a lovely, milk-white complexion.

Eliminates blur and distortion between the reading and distance portions. Giving all the advantages of double vision lenses with single vision comfort.

You need never dread getting used to Univis Bifocals. They are so constructed that you wear them with perfect comfort.

This Modern World

Edited by ANN ARDEN

A Department Devoted to Fashions, Decorations and Social Customs

Model from L. P. Hollander Co.

VERY young ladies are "style conscious" these sophisticated days and little girls' costumes have become versatile, too. No longer is her wardrobe a collection of miscellaneous garments; it is chosen from youthful interpretations of the grown-up mode especially designed for her.

COLOR is of paramount importance in the youthful spring styles and the hazy tints of yellow, pink and blue are decidedly smart. The ensemble pictured is a twin print in white and hazy blue pique; the dress is white, ground, figured in blue is sleeveless, the skirt widened with flared oval circular panels belted at the normal waistline and finished with bows of the opposite print at round neckline and belt closing.

The coat is of blue pique, figured in white, long sleeved, and caught with self belt and oval pearl buckle. Without doubt, a smart outfit, and completed by a smart hat of hazy blue straw.

is yellow shantung gathered from a shoulder yoke, and with inverted plait down center front. The collar is of white shantung feather-stitched to geometrically yellow shantung center edge; the cap sleeves are also finished with yellow shantung.

Shantung is an excellent material for little girls' dresses. It is soft and fairly dressy looking.

Model from L. P. Hollander Co.

"ORIGINAL PRICES"

mean the first price at which the merchandise was marked in our stock — we mean all of the items listed intermediate mark-downs have been taken. We say 1-3 off, but in many instances reductions are as great as 1-2 off — a few manufacturers naturally advanced price resulted items accepted.

ANCHOR BALKS
RUM-CHASER

Newport, R. I., April 2 (AP) —
"It's a sight to behold, when you can't get your mind hooked up, as the crew of the coast guard destroyer
No. 2 are prepared to testify.

The destroyer was moving in today after a nocturnal quest for runners when her engines faded. The anchor was dropped off the ship's light ship while repairs were made. The gale had whipped up a nasty sea and the old craft, a former navy torpedo boat, rolled and tossed. Then, when repairs had been completed, the anchor refused to budge. The winch pulled and groaned, but nothing happened.

The destroyer's skipper sent out a call for assistance and a navy tug, a motor life boat and a patrol boat responded. After hours of hard work the anchor yielded and the procession came off the harbor.

Favor Bills for Unemployed Relief

Washington, April 2 (AP) — Three bills proposed by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, to relieve unemployment, were acted on favorably today by a subcommittee of the Senate commerce committee, which investigated conditions. The subcommittee decided to submit the bills to the full committee tomorrow.

PLEASANT RELIEF
FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of fatigue. Young, yet heavy-lidded cheeks are yellow and drawn. Unusually simple, keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth in its integrity. Its joy and charm. Thin life is not a failure.

Is Your Daughter Well and Strong?

There are three trying periods in a woman's life, when the girl matures to womanhood; when a woman gives birth to her first child; when a woman reaches middle age. At these times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps to restore normal health and vigor. Thousands testify to its worth.

Daughter of Mrs. F. Butcher, R. No. 2, Gridley, Kansas.
"My thirteen year old daughter Maxine was troubled with backache and pain when she came into womanhood. I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help her because I used to take it myself at her age. Now she does not have to stay home from school, and her color is good, she eats well and does not complain of being tired."
—Mrs. Floyd Butcher.

Daughter of Mrs. J. Bartholdi, Thompson's Addition, The Dalles, Oregon.
"My daughter Magdalen did not seem to develop as she should. At times she had no pep at all and couldn't get her school work very easily. For four years we worried her, off and on. Then a friend told us about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I got a bottle for Magdalen. Her nerves are quieting, her general health is better and she is now as normal as other girls. I really think the Compound helped her more than all the other medicine I gave her."
—Mrs. J. Bartholdi.

Daughter of Mrs. M. Milano, 1408 Park Ave., New York, New York.
"My seventeen year old daughter Fannie was rundown, weak and nervous. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she has gained in weight and strength. She eats and sleeps well. She is a packer and she is able to go to work every day. We recommend the medicine to other mothers and daughters."
—Mrs. M. Milano.

NEW BEDFORD TO HAVE NIGHT AIR SHOW

By GEORGE HAMBLEN
From the being ramblin' by Harland Banks, head of the National Aeronautics Association, who is in the city for the night show to be held at the airport on Saturday, April 13.
With the meet scheduled to start on that date and continuing through Sunday, the problem of keeping the public pilots and mechanics entertained was one that presented a serious problem to Banks.

Now, England has never had a night parachute jump at any of the many air meets held so far, so this feature of the night show would be original in this section at least.

Then there are rumors of an aviation ball to be held in the hangar, with the public welcome, and this attraction will be included with the prize of admission to the field for the night aerial show.

Various difficulties are understood to be in the way of the night sky meet, but Banks has the complete cooperation of the Dawson and Dave Sher, president and general manager of Sound Airways, and also has the Chamber of Commerce lined up solidly behind his plans.

About 25 planes will be invited to attend the two-day aerial pageant, including all the world's best known pilots, such as Bob Foss, of Concord, N. H.; George Watkins, of Boston and Springfield; Charlie Arnold, of Glensboro, Conn.; and Fred Harmon of South Dartmouth.

Harmon is expected to provide the thrill for the crowd with his loop, barrel roll, and other stunts, including an outside loop, the most difficult stunt known in aviation.

Orders Actor to Pay $200,000 Insurance Unwanted Alimony Death Plot Charged

Los Angeles, April 2 (AP)—Mrs. Freda Whitney, known in musical circles as Freda Raring, concert conductor, has been granted a divorce from Richard Sterling Whitney, actor, but he has asked that the court impose no financial obligation upon her husband because it is so desired.

Mrs. Whitney charged desertion, and was given custody of their minor child. The court ordered Whitney to pay his wife $25 a month.

Man and Wife Hurt as Auto Ramps Pole

Worcester, April 2—John F. McCabe, 47, of Park ave., this city, is on the charges laid at the City Hospital, and his wife, Mary, is at home with minor injuries following collision of the machine he was driving with a pole on the Paxton Worcester road.

McCabe, before he became unemployed, had police he lost control of his machine after he had passed a truck near the town of Paxton, both vehicles being bound for the city.

Marshal Destroys Black Duck Cargo

Providence, April 2 (AP)—The orders of U. S. Marshal George W. Ladd, of the United States marshal and collector of customs here today destroyed the 175 cases of imported ducks, seized by the guard aboard the 11-day steamer, upon which those smugglers were killed and a fourth wounded the morning of December 29 in Narragansett bay.

The cargo destroyed consisted of pure and Scotch whiskeys and Buns also. Approximately 3000 birds were smashed and their contents can take the city council.

Renee Adore Belter Photographing Boston

Holywood, Pa., April 2 (AP)—Photographing Boston Adore Belter, motion picture actress in a semi-tourism at La Cienega, today reported her conditions improved.

Boston American Prohibition Forum—$500 in Weekly Prizes

Boston's $100 Dry Winner Lays All Crimes to Liquor

MAGGREGOR WOULD NOT VOTE 'WET' FOR 1 MILLIONS

John MacGregor, 57, of 27 Rutland sq., Boston, first prize winner for the first week's prohibition advocacy section of the Boston Evening American forum, tells this story as to why he is "dry."

"I am indeed grateful for the prize money, but I had no hope of reward in expressing my honest convictions on the liquor question when I wrote my letter. It is simply the conclusion I have reached after personal experience and observation over a period of years.

"I have noticed that liquor has been behind most crimes, degradation and suffering. The trouble it has brought about, for instance, whether he is guilty or innocent, the scandal on the Boston police department and crimes without number all came from the liquor business.

"Personal experience with liquor taught me its evil consequences. As I related in my letter, and $100,000 would not buy my vote for open bars. I believe the liquor traffic can be stopped only by the government in time and I am sure that every employer of labor would approve it, since the first question he asks an applicant for any job whatever is always "Do you drink?" If you do he will have more of you.

"Those who ask for a modified prohibition law would be the first to ask "Do you drink?" when a man applied for a job.

"The Boston Evening American is the only newspaper that I can find that takes an interest in the drug traffic, which is flourishing in this country also. If other papers would join with the Hearst papers in exposing this nefarious business there would be hope for its ultimate elimination also."

Harry Malone of East Boston; Mrs. Edith H. Frost of Everett; and Alfred Gray of Roxbury are the other winners whose prize letters appear on this page today.

One Big Spree Cured Him

John MacGregor, 27 Rutland sq., Boston, winner of the first week's "dry" prize of $100 in the Boston Evening American prohibition forum, declares in his letter that he got on one big spree, lost his watch, $500, a diamond ring—and got cured. Now, he's a prohibitionist. (Staff photo.)

This Letter Wins $100 Prize

By JOHN MACGREGOR
27 Rutland sq., Boston

WHEN the barrooms were wide open, I got drunk incessantly. I lost $500, a watch worth some money, a diamond ring. My friend was arrested. He lost his good job. His wife left him.

There was no moonshine in those days. Do you remember 30 years ago when the dance halls in and around North at, were open? Men of the fishing boats would get drunk, take off their coats and drug them along the floor to see if any one would step on them. Then, that meant fight.

Liquor was the cause of all this. You could not pay them to fight when sober. Wives and children starving. Do you remember the case of John Mackey? He went home drunk and shot his father dead. Rum was the cause of this.

There was no moonshine in those days.

I know three lads, fine men when sober, and my best friends. When they were drunk they wanted to kill me, but when sober, my best friends. Since the barrooms were put out of business they stopped drinking. Now they have nice homes and families. I always go to dinner with one of them on Sunday. They say: "Thank God, the barrooms are gone forever!" I asked Dr. Richard C. Cabot if liquor was any good. He said: "Yes, good for one thing, and that is to make trouble for men, women and children."

This Letter Wins Prize of $15 for Woman

MRS. EDITH H. FROST,
8 Walnut st., Everett.

DO seriously fear the present prohibition law. It is my opinion that any law should be enforced if we wish to make our country a place for all that is good and pure. This law was passed with the idea that it was for the good of our people. It did help the poor people at the time, but now, half-drunken men, suffered extremely from fear.

The wealthy, who fed men, could use it without doing them any harm. But the poor men would take their hard earned wages and spend them on liquor, and then they would be left with nothing. This is the way the law has been used. It has been used to make the poor people suffer, and to make the wealthy people richer.

My restricted families in cold homes and heat out their shoes on momentous in those homes. There are not so many neglected wives and children now, and if it were not for prohibition it would not be safe to travel in the street for gasoline and booze do not run well. It would certainly cause more accidents. There are my views on prohibition and long time the law remain unchanged.

AT the age of 23, I am not in a position to say much about the prohibition question. But, to my way of thinking it should be enforced as it is. There are no laws on the statute books that have been properly enforced so as to banish crime. They have only done so to a certain extent.

Of course, prohibition is a big question and at present has shown a success in many ways and in time will be a greater success if enforced as it stands.

As common people, we know, or at least should know, the menace and destruction a wet United States would mean in this present day of progress, especially in the motor industry in regard to safety on the highways and as it will be ten years from now.

A little common sense on the part of the public would help a great deal. We have no proof that prohibition cannot succeed. There is no person or persons that can prove it has failed. Totality. We do know that most people enjoy breaking laws and are honest about it. Nevertheless, crime doesn't pay in the long run.

This country has succeeded in most of its undertakings and there is no reason for it to fail on this question.

HUSBAND, WIFE AS HAPPY AS THEY DISAGREE ON DRY ISSUE

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

As my wife and I have not been able to agree as to the best method of promoting temperance, which both of us approve, I enclose herewith our ballot and a brief statement from each of us which you may make use of as you prefer.

As her mother had two brothers in the Confederate Army, and was a strong defender of State's Rights, and as her father believed that the Union should be preserved no matter what the cost might be, these different opinions between us over the prohibition problem will not disturb the happy relations which have existed between us for more than 40 years.

Cambridge, Mass.

I have the E. M. HEAD By MRS. MINNIE C. HEAD

By a serious controversy the proposition that the improper use of intoxicating beverages is an evil which should be corrected, so that the only real point of controversy should be as to the best means of accomplishing the desired results.

No matter what the opinion or wishes of the private individual may be, the prohibition problem should be considered from a purely practical standpoint. The Eighteenth Amendment, having become a part of the Constitution, it cannot be affected except by the approval of the President, two-thirds of each House of Congress and its ratification by a majority of the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States. There can be no reasonable prospect that this can be accomplished at any time within the next six or eight years, and until this is done, even though every State in the Union should adopt the policy which the State of Wisconsin and New York and others have adopted, by repealing the Eighteenth Amendment, the Constitutional Amendment itself, and the federal law for its enforcement would remain the law of the land, and would be the sworn duty and obligation of every federal official to enforce those laws.

The corruption of public officials, their failure to enforce the law, and the indifference, not to say actual connivance of some individuals with law violators, make inadequate the strictness of the public sentiment at this time is against all prohibition laws. But what has happened at any time in the future and will eventually force all to conform to its requirements.

The irrepressible conflict between the advocates of more strict laws and the strict enforcement of the laws will not continue to agitate the public for long.

It is perfectly evident that similar conditions will not continue to exist in this country, and that it is far better to endure the evils which we have rather than to try to remove them by force.

W. A. Q. J. R.,
Dawson st., Dorchester.

A DEADLY LAW!
Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

The loss of life and health from the present enforcement law is appalling. Poisoning our fellow citizens does not appeal to the popular imagination. Furthermore, the morale of the nation has been lowered. Huge profits from liquor have made gangsters rich, and from their millions have come the bribes that have brought local, state and federal officials to their knees. We have made millions of lawbreakers by the strict enforcement of citizens that were always people and law-abiding.

Repeal would mean returning to the old intolerable conditions, the saloons and its attendant evils. Modification may be the solution for our troubles. At least, it is worth trying. Let us return to state rights, each state to vote "wet" or "dry" and no interstate commerce in liquor. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws.

Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws.

Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws.

Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws.

Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws.

Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws. Let us have no federal prohibition laws.

Opinions Differ, but Ideas Are Plenty

NEED ENFORCEMENT

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

Have you ever seen a drunkard rolling down the street? What a pitiful, disgusting sight. Incapable of reasoning, full of hallucinations. Sometimes in a killing mood, sometimes talkative and boastful and more pitiful, still, an expression of utter stupefaction on his face.

Who is this wide world can say that a man can hold intoxicating liquors and still keep his senses? How futile to argue that a man is capable of drinking and not become a menace to society.

The law has been made now, at least the money previously spent for booze will clothe some poor child who otherwise could be brought before prohibition.

Is what the Eighteenth Amendment made up of, should this carefully prepared law be considered as if it is the joke of the century?

Would it be right to see again the barrooms, the terrible condition of home and family, to see the brutal abuse handed out by desperate drunkards to their innocent families?

Hasn't enough times now. Law enforcement is what is needed and that death toll is a sad hand.

W. A. Q. J. R.,
Dawson st., Dorchester.

To Old Mr. Fat and Young Mr. Stout I Send This Message

I have more of the 16 ounce blue unfinished worsted that made such a hit with the fat men last year. The price is the same.

SUIT to order $19.75 up to 60 breast

I have a number of un-called for suits and top-coats ready to wear that I am showing as low as $10. I MAY HAVE JUST YOUR SIZE.

On receipt of 2c stamp I send a range of samples of worsted suitings to any part of the United States—together with simple system of self measurement. A postal will bring a man with woollens for selection anywhere within 50 miles of Boston.

Red Sox Have Chance to Finish Third, Says Bob Quinn

PICKS MACKS TO REPEAT FLAG WIN

By JOE CASHMAN

"WHERE will the Red Sox finish?" we asked President Bob Quinn today.

"No higher than third, no lower, if some, than right in the pocket, answered.

Now, you might say, what chance has the Sox in a pocket team in the first place? Well, Quinn says, the Sox have a chance of finishing in the pocket, but he doesn't think they will. He says they will finish in the pocket, but he doesn't think they will.

If YOU MADE up your mind to produce the best cigarette ever smoked... wouldn't you begin by selecting the choicest tobaccos in all the world?... Wouldn't you spend time and money without stint to discover and develop the one most perfect blend?... Of course you would. And that's exactly what Camel did. That's why Camel so quickly became the most popular cigarette in America. That's why, no matter what you pay, you can't match it for mild, mellow fragrance and that smooth richness that makes the perfect smoke.... Experienced smokers will tell you... It's a great cigarette!

Reserve Board, Not Wall Street, Deserves Blame

Thwarted Rise in Money to Check Stock Boom; Expect Showers

NEW YORK, April 2.—The Federal Reserve Board was wrong, New York and Boston bankers were right. That was demonstrated by events. Only now in the disclosure of the directors of the Reserve Board in these cases repeatedly patterned the Reserve Board for its failure to increase the money supply.

It was the Reserve Board that was thwarted by the Washington authorities. Had the Reserve Board been allowed to increase the money supply, the stock market would have been held in check.

Revealing the clash between the Reserve Board and the stock market, the Reserve Board members, their overreaching and overreliance on the Federal Reserve Board, have been exposed. The Reserve Board has been shown to be wrong, and the stock market has been shown to be right.

It is apparent that the Reserve Board's action in increasing the money supply was a mistake. The Reserve Board has been shown to be wrong, and the stock market has been shown to be right.

Instead of blaming the Reserve Board for what happened, remember that the Reserve Board has been shown to be wrong, and the stock market has been shown to be right.

The head of one of our great banks has been shown to be wrong, and the stock market has been shown to be right.

Encouraging. During the decade prior to 1924, the price of gold was about $35 per ounce. It is now about $35 per ounce.

'Thriftless Women'

Some Are, of Course

THERE is a widespread impression that when it comes to spending money women have better sense than men. All women think so, and most men agree with them. Men are so busy making money that they seldom question the ability of women to spend it for them—and to spend it, on the whole, wisely.

This is in spite of the stock wisecrack about the extravagance of the ladies.

Now comes a Pittsburgh Scraper, Howard T. Reed, armed with figures to upset this "delusion."

"Eighty-five per cent of all salaries in the country are spent by women," says Mr. Reed. "Last year feminine hands invested $700,000,000 in fraudulent securities. They further purchased on the installment plan depreciated luxuries of little value to them, and cut down their savings by $180,000,000."

This is a serious indictment, if true. But it is not exactly true.

The fact is that spending money is a good deal like drinking. Most women drink less than men. But when a woman takes up drinking as a serious business she makes the average man look like a prohibitionist in the middle of the Sahara Desert.

So, too, women either save money or spend money. They are financial retailers or financial drunks. Temperance is not in their dictionary.

"Plain water or whiskey straight" is their slogan, figuratively speaking. Mr. Reed happens to have got his statistics from the minority that don't like water.

The Talkie in the Courts

Legal Evidence Now

JUDGE JAMES GORDON, JR., of Philadelphia, rules that a talking film of a prisoner's confession, obtained under proper circumstances, is legal evidence in Pennsylvania.

"The novelty of the sound picture," Judge Gordon declares, "is no reason for rejecting it. The courts have always been hospitable to the inventions of science, when their accuracy and reliability as aids to the determination of truth are established."

"Photography and the mechanical reproduction of sound being both admissible in evidence, we see no reason for refusing to accept the combination of the two."

Judge Gordon happens to be the first to rule on talkies as evidence, but it will be but a short time before they are recognized by all courts.

Looking at a confession, seeing the play of the prisoner's features, hearing the tone of his voice, will give a jury a truer insight into the truth than any written record could possibly afford.

Too, the talkie is a much-needed safeguard for the rights of the prisoner. It ought to eliminate the third degree, which, rightly or wrongly, is used to force many a confession, and which in public estimation is one of the darkest blot on our system of justice. That alone will commend it to all humane persons, judges included.

Cut Rates

In Airplane Tickets.

SINCE the recent cut in airplane passenger tickets women are beginning to fly. Before the reduction only 16 per cent of passengers were of the so-called softer sex. Now the percentage is twenty-three.

Airlines are waking up to the psychological factors in selling their service. Hitherto, most of their efforts have been devoted to proving that air travel is safe. That hardly seems necessary among a people who cheerfully die by the thousands in automobiles.

What is important is to sell flying to WOMEN. Men don't count. And the only way to sell it to women is to sell it as a bargain. Airlines should take a hint from the department stores. What woman, planning a trip that costs $20 by rail, could resist the ad, "BY AIR, $10.95?" There isn't any.

Warning to Veterans

Only a Few Days to File Disability Claims

THE Massachusetts Department of the American Legion is active in spreading the warning that this is the last week in which Massachusetts veterans of the World War may file claims for disability.

Even though a veteran's papers show grounds for a disability claim, it is necessary to present a formal application. Evidence as a basis for claims must be submitted immediately. There are hundreds of men in Massachusetts who have just disability claims under the law, but they have done nothing about them.

The nearest Legion post or Veterans' Bureau office will handle everything for a claimant free. So get your claim in at once. Payment is the just due of every disabled soldier.

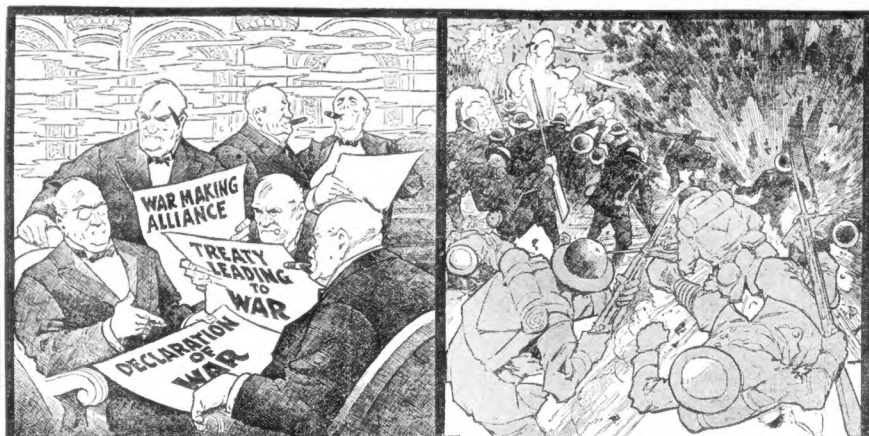

A Fearless Churchman

Mrs. Cassidy's Election Applauded

THE appointment of Right Reverend Monsignor James E. Cassidy, Auxiliary to the Right Reverend Daniel F. Feehan, D. D., Bishop of Fall River, gives great pleasure not only to the members of his faith throughout New England but to thousands who are of other faiths.

Monsignor Cassidy has had a wonderful career in the church, but is best known for his fearless public declarations on moral questions of the day. When the official documents appointing Monsignor Cassidy are received from the Vatican, arrangements will be made for his consecration in office. That will be a great day for Fall River.

LET THOSE WHO FIGHT SAY WHEN AND WHOM!

THE ELDER STATESMEN DECIDE ON WARS, BUT THE PEOPLE BEAR THE BRUNT

WARS are fought by the PEOPLE.

Therefore, in the opinion of the Hearst newspapers, the PEOPLE should have something to say about the wars they fight.

If the people, instead of the Senate, had voted on the proposition of sending our soldiers and sailors over to fight in the European war, the popular vote would have been three to one against the war.

The Hearst newspapers advocate an amendment to the Constitution making it impossible for the Government, except after a referendum vote of the people:

- 1.—To declare or wage any war except in defense of the territories and possessions of the United States, and
- 2.—To form any alliance or agreement with any foreign nation or group of nations obligating the United States to participate in or confer on wars not having to do with the defense of the territories or possessions of the United States.

H. G. Wells Writes on "The Science of Life"

In Collaboration With Prof. Julian Huxley and George F. Wells

Homeostasis invaded South America and here was evolved the human race. The human race, however, was not a homogeneous group of three distinct races, as is commonly supposed, but a single, continuous, unbroken line of evolution, which only in the last few years has been artificially divided into three distinct groups by the action of the human mind.

H. G. Wells

It is interesting to note that the human race, though not touching the ground, long after the main line had reached them in its splendor, while on the other hand, some of its species improved their teeth beyond anything known even in present-day mammals.

THEY'RE OUT OF LUCK!

I'm sorry for the little girls who haven't got these days...

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

They're out of luck! They're out of luck! They're out of luck!

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 2.—Every unimportant nobody is dashing off a full length autobiographic three days. So today's column will be about myself. Take a deep breath and let's go. My first newspaper job was chasing local items up and down the main street of a small town.

I am still doing the same thing in about the same way, only my main street is Broadway, the avenue and city streets. I frequently write protesting letters to editors if they blue pencil my stuff, which is cheeky. For when I am in print I wonder why they print it at all.

Most of my writing is done at night and on rainy days. I have seen the sun rise. I have been writing a daily article about New York for 18 years and only two times have I been away from New York for more than a day. One of these was an idea suggested by Michael Alden.

I HAVE never intentionally written a line I thought would wound

the feelings of another, but I have been accused of ever spitting venom of a race or a religion. Some of the most sarcastic remarks about me have been written by writers

I have befriended.

I have worked on country

weeklies, small town dailies, big city papers, two metropolitan magazines, several investigations.

My smallest weekly income from writing is $1 for per cent on a life. My biggest was $250, which I never hope to equal again.

My average mail is 300 letters a day. More epistles come in from editors than from any other class.

The only edit of any size from which I am not a regular contributor is a letter in Boston Rouge, La.

from a young man from New York comes from Drury, Col.

NINETY-EIGHT per cent of the mail is friendly. The other

2 per cent is anonymous and insulting and ever spoken slightly as soon as possible. I do my best work on it so it seems to come on dark, gloomy and drizzling times. I do my best in a half hour. Other times it takes me all day.

I inevitably go to my typewriter

bursting with enthusiasm, but it soon evaporates. In 15 minutes

I become morose and cast about for an excuse to procrastinate. I an excuse to procrastinate. I be-
